Performance

Indexed value (until 30-04-2023) - Source: Robeco

Performance

Based on transaction prices, the fund's return was -8.86%.

BYD reported Q1 results with net income up 4x vs last year. The company benefits from a strong line-up of cars across the price spectrum, which positions it well for further growth. The strong growth in Q1 in China came despite the expiry of the EV purchase subsidy. ABB beat Q1 earnings across the segments and showed good growth, with a book to bill of more than 1 leading to increased guidance. As supply chains ease, margin improvements and backlog conversion set the company up well for growth in 2023. The market is looking for the CMD at the end of the year for potentially higher targets. STMicroelectronics was weaker after Q1 numbers, as automotive and industrial business trends stay strong. Margins were strong, but may soften in the second half on plant conversion. Valuation remains very attractive.

Market development

After a very strong first quarter of the year, the equity market consolidated in April close to its peak of the year within a relatively tight trading range. The Smart Mobility theme continued to expand, as the transformation of the automotive industry towards electrification maintained its momentum. In China, NEV growth continued in March and started to favor pure BEVs even more. Growth was 35% YoY. The comparison with April will start to take into account months with more significant lockdowns last year. Europe saw a mixed picture due to subsidy impacts in Germany. For example, where PHEV declined, while pure BEVs continue to increase.

Expectation of fund manager

The underlying fundamentals (as reflected by the core themes addressed by the strategy) are very robust. The tight components supply situation is slowly improving. However, some of it may persist for longer, but in the meantime support semiconductor companies. Technology companies with strong and sustainable moats remain the focus of the strategy's investments. These companies focus on the development of high-voltage electric, low-voltage electronic and software-managed solutions that enable electrification, connectivity and autonomous driving. Other key enabling technologies include battery management systems, power inverters, 3D sensing, big data communication and artificial intelligence (AI). The strategy will also continue to seek exposure to the EV market as well as to companies helping to develop EV infrastructure worldwide.

Top 10 largest positions

Sustainability

The fund's sustainable investment objective is to support the transformation and decarbonization of the global transportation sector. The transformation and decarbonization of the global transportation sector and sustainability considerations are incorporated in the investment process by the means of a target universe definition, exclusions, ESG integration, a carbon footprint target and voting. The fund only invests in companies that have a significant thematic fit as per Robeco's thematic universe methodology. Through screening on both Robeco's internally developed SDG Framework and Robeco's exclusion policy, the fund does not invest in issuers that have a negative impact on the SDGs, are in breach of international norms or where products have been deemed controversial. Financially material ESG factors are integrated in the bottom-up fundamental investment analysis to assess existing and potential ESG risks and opportunities. The fund's weighted carbon footprint will be equal to or better than that of its Climate Transition Benchmark. In addition, where a stock issuer is flagged for breaching international standards in the ongoing monitoring, the issuer will become subject to exclusion. Lastly, the fund makes use of shareholder rights and applies proxy voting in accordance with Robeco's proxy voting policy.

SDG Impact Alignment

This distribution across SDG scores shows the portfolio weight allocated to companies with a positive, negative and neutral impact alignment with the Sustainable Development Goals (SDG) based on Robeco's SDG Framework. The framework, which utilizes a three-step approach to assess a company's impact alignment with the relevant SDGs, provides a methodology for assigning companies with an SDG score. The score ranges from positive to negative impact alignment with levels from high, medium or low impact alignment. This results in a 7-step scale from -3 to +3. If the data set does not cover the full portfolio, the figures shown above each impact level sum to the coverage level to reflect the data coverage of the portfolio, with minimal deviations that reflect rounding. Weights < 0.5% will show as 0. If an index has been selected, the same figures are also provided for the index.

Holdings mapped as corporates and/or sovereign are included in the figures.
