About the fund

Robeco FinTech is an actively managed fund that invests in stocks in developed and emerging countries. The stock selection is based on fundamental analysis within a proprietary Fintech universe that covers payments, financial infrastructure, financial management, data & analytics and digital assets. Custom valuation models are used to select stocks with good earnings prospects and a reasonable valuation. These are individually assessed on the basis of industry trend analysis, in-depth discussions with corporate management, analysts and industry experts. The fund's objective is to achieve a better return than the broad equity index.

Key risks

- The value of shares is sensitive to market fluctuations, instrument prices, and changes in political, economic, or market conditions. Equity theme funds have a view on a specific segment of the equity market. By making the choice to focus on a specific segment the fund becomes more volatile as price movements of shares within this theme tend to have a larger impact on the value of the fund.
- The fund may use financial derivatives.
- A (derivative) counterparty may fail to fulfil its obligations. Counterparty risk is reduced by exchanging collateral.
- The fund invests in assets that could become less liquid in certain market conditions, which may affect their value.
- This fund promotes ESG characteristics, but does not have sustainable investing as its objective. Sustainability risks are integrated in the investment decisions and may impact returns.

Performance commentary

Based on transaction prices, the fund's return was 1.18%.

We had a lower return compared to the reference index, the MSCI AC World, in April. Looking at the various clusters of our FinTech investment universe, Payments (30% weight) made the least negative contribution to performance, followed by Digital Assets (15%), Data & Analytics (18%), Financial Management (22%) and finally Financial Infrastructure (15%) with the worst negative contribution to performance. Affirm, Wise, Linklogis, Interactive Brokers, Bajaj Finance, Adyen, Block and Kaspi were the best relative performers. Circle, Intuit, Charles Schwab, EPAM, Tradeweb Markets and Tencent were the main detractors. From an industry perspective, Financial Services (Affirm, Wise, Adyen, Block), Insurance and Consumer Finance (Bajaj Finance, Kaspi) were the biggest positive contributors to performance while Capital Markets (Charles Schwab, Tradeweb Markets, Intercontinental Exchange), Software (Circle, Intuit, Guidewire) and Interactive Media & Services (Tencent) contributed negatively to performance during April.

Market development

As the worries about the Iran conflict faded, stock markets regained upward momentum in April. Market activity is very concentrated and market breadth narrowed further. Momentum is favoring AI infrastructure and commodities at the moment, while other sectors lag. This divergence is most evident when observing the semiconductor index (SOX), up almost 50% year-to-date, while the software index (IGV) has dropped 20% over the same period. During April, payments companies delivered impressive volume growth and solid credit metrics. Online brokerage firms saw continued increases in accounts and daily trading activity, although interest income was weaker than expected. In Digital Assets, progress on the CLARITY Act represents compromise. However, we believe that regulatory clarity is crucial for traditional financial institutions looking to adopt blockchain technology, so in that sense, a final passing of the act is a great catalyst for the overall crypto ecosystem.

Expectation of fund manager

The Robeco FinTech strategy invests in a universe composed of five segments: Payments, Financial Infrastructure, Financial Management, Data & Analytics and Digital Assets. This makes for a diverse portfolio benefiting from the ongoing digitization and tokenization of the financial sector. From the launch of the FinTech strategy, we targeted a portfolio with an average of 10-15% EPS CAGR, driven by strong topline growth in combination with operational leverage as business models scaled to full potential. We have seen plenty of changes in underlying FinTech trends, but the long-term growth profile of our strategy is still firmly intact. By focusing on key trends such as capital markets resurgence, agentic commerce and tokenization, we can identify and capitalize on the most promising opportunities within the FinTech landscape.

Top 10 largest holdings

The five largest positions in the fund are MSCI, Coinbase, Charles Schwab, Nu Holdings and Intercontinental Exchange.

Sector allocation

The fund does not have a sector allocation policy. The fund invests in companies that benefit from the digitization of the financial sector, and focuses on the FinTech long-term growth investment universe. It invests in five distinct segments, labelled as Payments, Financial Infrastructure, Data & Analytics, Financial Management and Digital Assets.

Regional allocation

The fund currently has over 60% of its investments in the US, which is the dominant country for listed FinTech equity investments, but we expect China, India and other emerging markets next to Europe to gain importance.

Currency allocation

The fund has no active currency positions.

Past performance is no guarantee of future results. The value of your investments may fluctuate.

Reference

1. SDG Impact Alignment

This distribution across SDG scores shows the portfolio weight allocated to companies with a positive, negative and neutral impact alignment with the Sustainable Development Goals (SDG) based on Robeco's SDG Framework. The framework utilizes a three-step approach to assess a company's impact alignment with the relevant SDGs and assign a total SDG score. The score ranges from positive to negative impact alignment with levels from high, medium or low impact alignment. Only holdings mapped as corporates are included in the figures.

2. Environmental Footprint

Environmental footprint expresses the total resource consumption of the portfolio per mUSD invested. Each assessed company's footprint is calculated by normalizing resources consumed by the company's enterprise value including cash (EVIC). We aggregate these figures to portfolio level using a weighted average, multiplying each assessed portfolio constituent's footprint by its respective position weight. The equivalent factors that are used for comparison between the portfolio and index (where applicable) represent European averages and are based on third-party sources combined with own estimates. As such, the figures presented are intended for illustrative purposes and are purely an indication. Only holdings mapped as corporates are included in the figures.

3. Sustainalytics ESG Risk Rating

The chart displays the portfolio's Sustainalytics ESG Risk Rating. This is calculated by multiplying each portfolio component's Sustainalytics ESG Risk Rating by its respective portfolio weight. The distribution across Sustainalytics ESG Risk levels chart shows the portfolio allocations broken into Sustainalytics' five ESG risk levels: negligible (0-10), low (10-20), medium (20-30), high (30-40) and severe (40+), providing an overview of portfolio exposure to the different ESG risk levels.

Only holdings mapped as corporates are included in the figures.

4. Exclusions

The charts display the degree of adherence to exclusion applied by Robeco. Thresholds are based on revenues unless otherwise indicated. For more information about the exclusion policy and which level applies, please refer to the Exclusion Policy and Exclusion List available on Robeco.com.

Source: Robeco. We use several data input sources such as Sustainalytics, RSPO (Roundtable on Sustainable Palm Oil), World Bank, Freedom House, Fund for Peace and International Sanctions. Policy document available: Exclusion Policy

5. Engagement

Robeco distinguishes between three types of engagement. Value Engagement focuses on long-term issues that are financially material and/or are causing adverse sustainability impacts. The themes can be broken into Environmental, Social, Governance, or Voting-related. SDG Engagement aims to drive a clear and measurable improvement in a company's SDG contribution. Enhanced engagement is triggered by misconduct and focuses on companies severely breaching international standards. The report is based on all companies in the portfolio for which engagement activities have taken place during the past 12 months. Note that companies may be under engagement in multiple categories simultaneously. While the total portfolio exposure excludes double counting, it may not equal the sum of individual category exposures.
