Performance

Indexed value (until 30-04-2023) - Source: Robeco

Performance

Based on transaction prices, the fund's return was -0.53%.

Robeco BP Global Premium Equities trailed the MSCI World Index in April, with stock selection, primarily in information technology, having the main impact. In information technology, semiconductor positions STMicroelectronics and Renesas Electronics lagged, as did communications company Cisco. Not holding Microsoft also weighed on relative returns. Industrials company Concentrix Corporation lagged. In healthcare, holding pharmaceutical manufacturer Bristol-Myers Squibb hurt, as it underperformed industry peer Eli Lilly. Conversely, contributions came from the consumer discretionary sector, where not holding Tesla benefited the relative performance. From a sector allocation standpoint, the portfolio benefited from our underweight position in information technology, but offsetting detractions came from our overweight position in industrials.

Market development

Global markets as measured by the MSCI World Index rose 1.75% in the month of April (net/USD), while the MSCI World Value Index climbed marginally higher, gaining 1.91% (net/USD). The core MSCI World Index was led by consumer staples, energy, healthcare and financials, with the tech and materials sectors being the laggards.

Expectation of fund manager

Worries continue around the US regional banks, with First Republic being the latest casualty. Whether this was the last bank to fail, remains unclear. While definite progress has been made in reducing headline inflation, core inflation readings remain elevated and 'sticky', as the Fed's favored measure, the Core PCE, stands at 4.6% and well above the Fed target of 2%, and not much lower than the February 2022 peak level of 5.4%. By the end of April, 261 of the S&P 500 companies had reported Q1 earnings results. Earnings reported were a negative -2.3% on a year-over-year basis, that was +6.6% better than estimates for those companies reporting. Adding those results to the expectations for the remaining companies left to report, puts the S&P 500 on pace for a -3.77% drop in Q1 earnings on a year-over-year basis, much better than the -6.59% forecast entering the Q1 reporting period. The fund remains well positioned with holdings that reflect Boston Partners' three-circle characteristics – attractive valuations, solid business fundamentals, and identifiable catalysts.

Sustainability

The fund incorporates sustainability in the investment process via exclusions, ESG integration, a carbon target, engagement and voting. Through exclusions the fund avoids investments in issuers that are in breach of international norms or where activities have been deemed detrimental to society following Robeco's exclusion policy. Financially material ESG factors are integrated in the bottom-up investment analysis to assess the sustainability risk profile of companies. In the stock selection the fund limits exposure to elevated sustainability risks. The fund also targets a lower carbon footprint compared to the reference index. In addition, where a stock issuer is flagged for breaching international standards in the ongoing monitoring, the issuer will become subject to engagement. Lastly, the fund makes use of shareholder rights and applies proxy voting in accordance with Robeco's proxy voting policy.

Investment policy

Robeco BP Global Premium Equities is an actively managed fund that invests in stocks globally. The selection of these stocks is based on fundamental analysis. The fund's objective is to achieve a better return than the index. The fund promotes E&S (i.e. Environmental and Social) characteristics within the meaning of Article 8 of the European Sustainable Finance Disclosure Regulation, integrates sustainability risks in the investment process and applies Robeco's Good Governance policy. The fund applies sustainability indicators, including but not limited to, normative, activity-based and region-based exclusions, proxy voting and engagement. The fund invests in a flexible manner across market capitalizations, regions and sectors, in developed countries across the world. Benchmark: MSCI World Index (net return). While the investment policy is not constrained by a benchmark, the fund may use a benchmark index in its marketing materials for comparison purposes. Some of the stocks selected will be components of the benchmark, but stocks outside the benchmark may be selected too. The portfolio manager may use their discretion to invest in companies or sectors not included in the benchmark based on opportunities discovered through fundamental research. The fund can deviate substantially from the issuer, country and sector weightings of the benchmark. There are no restrictions on the deviation from the benchmark. The Benchmark is a broad market-weighted index that is not consistent with the ESG characteristics promoted by the fund.
