Performance commentary

Based on transaction prices, the fund's return was 3.94%.

Robeco BP Global Premium Equities trailed the core MSCI World Index in the month of April, with sector allocation being the largest detractor from relative returns. The fund's large underweight in the information technology sector has been the primary cause of underperformance, with the sector soaring over 17.5% higher, in USD terms. Overweight exposure to energy and healthcare also weighed on relative results. Stock selection was strong in the energy sector in April, with off-benchmark holdings Saipem and Vallourec and avoiding ExxonMobil adding most value. Strong stock picking also came in the industrials sector with Cummins, HD Korea Shipbuilding, United Rentals and Fuji Electric all performing robustly. An area of weakness to stock selection came in communication services, largely driven by not holding Alphabet. Regionally, North America was the largest detractor, with the largest contribution coming from Japan.

Market development

Stocks rallied in April, propelled by news of a ceasefire agreement in the Middle East, a decline in oil prices, and strong corporate earnings. Technology stocks rebounded, and emerging markets dominated by semiconductor companies delivered outsized gains. Growth outpaced value in many markets, and developed non-US markets generally lagged the United States.

Expectation of fund manager

While market breadth expanded through the first quarter, we have recently seen breadth return to near-record lows, as investors have piled back into a small cohort of businesses on the prospect of the war in Iran ending. Simultaneously, however, interest rates remain at elevated levels, with indications that there may be rate hikes on the horizon, inflation remains elevated and energy markets remain constrained. The changes in leadership (i.e. growth vs. value) seen so far this year have resulted in volatility that tends to favor stock pickers such as Boston Partners. Looking forward, having a long-tenured, disciplined approach in these environments is essential and we continue to focus on attractively valued businesses with high fundamental quality and improving business momentum.

Top 10 largest holdings

Total Energies and Labcorp exit the top ten, being replaced by Renesas Electronics and SPIE.

Sector allocation

Activity in the portfolio was higher than usual, with seven positions closed and four positions opened. Closed positions came in utilities (2x), healthcare, information technology, industrials, communication services and consumer discretionary. Opened positions came in healthcare, financials, consumer discretionary and consumer staples.

Country / Region allocation

The fund invests in stocks that are quoted on global stock exchanges.

Currency allocation

Stock picking for Robeco BP Global Premium Equities is meant to be independent of currency exposure. Currency exposure is dictated solely by our security selection.
