About the fund

Robeco High Yield Bonds is an actively managed fund that invests predominantly in bonds with a sub-investment grade rating, issued primarily by issuers from developed markets (Europe/US). The selection of these bonds is based on fundamental analysis. The fund's objective is to provide long-term capital growth. The portfolio is broadly diversified, with a structural bias towards the higher rated part in high yield. Performance drivers are the top-down beta positioning as well as bottom-up issuer selection. The fund aims to outperform the Benchmark (before charges) over the long run.
The Benchmark is comprised of two sub-indices. However, the Benchmark does not have a fixed allocation to these two indices. Each sub-index's weight is determined by the aggregate market capitalisation of its underlying securities relative to the total market capitalisation of all securities in the new composite. For example, if the total market value of Index A is $1 trillion and Index B is $0.5 trillion, Index A would receive an approximate weight of 66.7%, and Index B would receive a 33.3% weight. The weights are adjusted every month-end.
