Performance

Based on transaction prices, the fund's return was 0.53%.
In January, the high yield market had a total return of 0.45%. Credit excess returns were positive, driven by a generalized junk rally and spreads tightening, but underlying government rates detracted, as the US 10-year yield settled higher at 4.23%. The portfolio outperformed by 12 bps this month, as issuer selection contributed 16 bps and underweight beta positioning detracted 4 bps. The month was characterized by strong returns in the lower-rated credits in both currencies, with a slight outperformance of USD, where BBs posted the best risk-adjusted returns. Our allocation to higher-quality credits, mainly in the BB and BBB space, contributed meaningfully to performance. Underweight in the technology and underweight in the capital goods sectors added 8 and 5 bps, respectively, whereas overweight in the basic industry sectors detracted 4 bps. The underweight position in Multi-Color contributed 5 bps, as the US labels company skipped a payment during the month and enters into negotiations with lenders to address its substantial maturities. The overweight position in Magnera detracted 2 bps, as bonds of the pulp materials manufacturer lost some ground after a strong rally in December.

Market development

In January, high yield spreads tightened by 4 bps to 269, while YTW widened by 1 bps to 6.26%. January data highlighted a growing disconnect between headline growth and underlying sentiment. While US GDP growth for 2025Q3 was confirmed at a strong 4.4% annualized pace, consumer confidence fell sharply, with the Conference Board index dropping to 84.5, its lowest level since 2014. The divergence reinforced the narrative of a bifurcated economy, where gains from a strong equity market are concentrated among higher-income households, while the broader population faces pressure from higher prices and a cooling labor market. The Federal Reserve kept rates on hold for the first time since July, with Chair Powell stressing there was no urgency to cut and that policy was no longer clearly restrictive. Markets continue to price the next rate cut no earlier than the summer. Meanwhile, risk sentiment recovered, with the S&P 500 climbing above 7,000 as equities rebounded from the Greenland-related sell-off. US HY new bond issuance totaled USD 28 bln in January.

Expectation of fund manager

The fourth quarter of 2025 ended positively for credit investors, with high yield delivering excess returns, though the lowest-rated credits underperformed, highlighting the need for selectivity. Looking to 2026, global growth prospects are strong. In the US, the average consumer remains resilient despite ongoing disparities, with lower-income groups and small businesses facing more challenges. The AI investment surge, reduced tariff uncertainty, and continued monetary easing are expected to support US economic growth, with consensus forecasting 2% real GDP growth. While the labor market poses some risks, recession fears have eased and a reacceleration is possible. US inflation is above target but manageable, aided by cooling services inflation and lower oil prices. The Fed must balance growth, inflation, and a potentially softer labor market. In Europe, rates support the economy, but growth is expected to be modest. Uncertainty from new AI sector supply and M&A activity clouds the 2026 outlook. Valuations are tight, so we remain conservative, focusing on quality and risk management.

Changes

The benchmark of the fund is Bloomberg Barclays US Corp. HY & Pan Eur. HY ex Fin. 2,5% issuer Cap (hedged into EUR). The fund aims to outperform by taking positions that deviate from the benchmark within predefined risk limits. This share class of the fund hedged the interest rate duration until 10 December 2019 to nearly zero, therefore the benchmark of the fund was not representative. Since 11 December 2019, the duration hedge was removed and the benchmark is representative to compare the fund performance.

Sector allocation

The fund maintains overweights in less cyclical areas such as packaging and paper, complemented by an outspoken off-benchmark position in financials. We also carry additional overweights in chemicals, automotive and food & beverage. On the other hand, we remain underweight in the communications sector, as well as more cyclical consumer-oriented areas including gaming, retail, home construction and leisure.

ESG Important information

The sustainability information in this factsheet can help investors integrate sustainability considerations in their process. This information is for informational purposes only. The reported sustainability information may not at all be used in relation to binding elements for this fund. A decision to invest should take into account all characteristics or objectives of the fund as described in the prospectus. The prospectus is available on request and free of charge on the Robeco website.

Sustainability

The fund incorporates sustainability in the investment process via exclusions, ESG integration, a minimum allocation to ESG-labeled bonds, and engagement. The fund does not invest in credit issuers that are in breach of international norms or where activities have been deemed detrimental to society following Robeco's exclusion policy. Financially material ESG factors are integrated in the bottom-up security analysis to assess the impact on the issuer's fundamental credit quality. In the credit selection the fund limits exposure to issuers with an elevated sustainability risk profile. Furthermore, the fund invests at least 2% in green, social, sustainable, and/or sustainability-linked bonds. Lastly, where issuers are flagged for breaching international standards in the ongoing monitoring, the issuer will become subject to engagement.

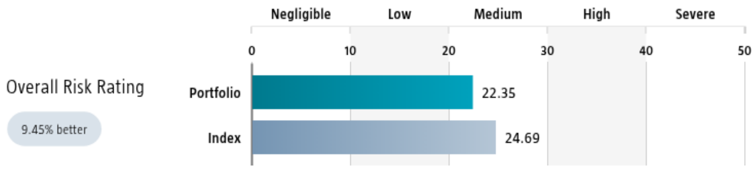
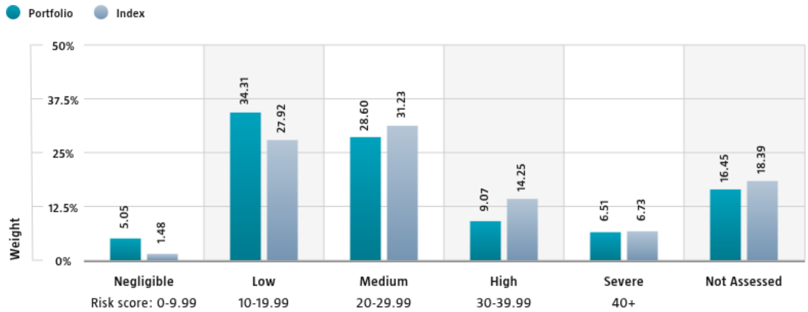
Sustainalytics ESG Risk Rating

The Portfolio Sustainalytics ESG Risk Rating chart displays the portfolio's ESG Risk Rating. This is calculated by multiplying each portfolio component's Sustainalytics ESG Risk Rating by its respective portfolio weight. The Distribution across Sustainalytics ESG Risk levels chart shows the portfolio allocations broken into Sustainalytics' five ESG risk levels: negligible (0-10), low (10-20), medium (20-30), high (30-40) and severe (40+), providing an overview of portfolio exposure to the different ESG risk levels. Index scores are provided alongside the portfolio scores, highlighting the portfolio's ESG risk level compared to the index.
Only holdings mapped as corporates are included in the figures.





Environmental Footprint

Environmental footprint expresses the total resource consumption of the portfolio per mUSD invested. Each assessed company's footprint is calculated by normalizing resources consumed by the company's enterprise value including cash (EVIC). We aggregate these figures to portfolio level using a weighted average, multiplying each assessed portfolio constituent's footprint by its respective position weight. For comparison, index footprints are shown besides that of the portfolio. The equivalent factors that are used for comparison between the portfolio and index represent European averages and are based on third-party sources combined with own estimates. As such, the figures presented are intended for illustrative purposes and are purely an indication. Only holdings mapped as corporates are included in the figures.

SDG Impact Alignment

This distribution across SDG scores shows the portfolio weight allocated to companies with a positive, negative and neutral impact alignment with the Sustainable Development Goals (SDG) based on Robeco's SDG Framework. The framework utilizes a three-step approach to assess a company's impact alignment with the relevant SDGs and assign a total SDG score. The score ranges from positive to negative impact alignment with levels from high, medium or low impact alignment. This results in a 7-step scale from -3 to +3. For comparison, index figures are provided alongside that of the portfolio. Only holdings mapped as corporates are included in the figures.

Index exposure figures are provided alongside the portfolio exposure figures, highlighting the difference with the index.

Engagement

Robeco distinguishes between three types of engagement.
Value Engagement focuses on long-term issues that are financially material and/or are causing adverse sustainability impacts. The themes can be broken into Environmental, Social, Governance, or Voting-related. SDG Engagement aims to drive a clear and measurable improvement in a company's SDG contribution. Enhanced engagement is triggered by misconduct and focuses on companies severely breaching internationals standards. The report is based on all companies in the portfolio for which engagement activities have taken place during the past 12 months. Note that companies may be under engagement in multiple categories simultaneously. While the total portfolio exposure excludes double counting, it may not equal the sum of individual category exposures.

	Portfolio exposure	# companies engaged with	# activities with companies engaged with
Total (* excluding double counting)	5.17%	20	63
Environmental	2.20%	9	37
Social	0.50%	2	2
Governance	0.60%	1	5
