Performance

Based on transaction prices, the fund's return was -1.95%.

Underweights in Hong Kong and Singapore contributed to performance, while overweights in India detracted.

Overweights in consumer cyclicals and underweights in insurance contributed to performance, while the combined underweight in sovereign issuers and state-owned enterprises detracted from performance.

Market development

In March, global risk sentiment weakened sharply following the war in the Middle East. Rising energy prices and a sell-off in US Treasuries weighed on investor appetite, leading to negative total returns across Asian credit. IG spreads moved wider, while HY underperformed more meaningfully as volatility increased. Performance was driven primarily by higher underlying yields and weaker sentiment rather than any broad deterioration in regional credit quality. Issuers in the Asian credit benchmark have limited direct exposure to the conflict. However, indirect risks are still present, particularly through higher and more volatile energy prices, the potential for disruptions to physical energy supply, and second-round effects on trade and growth in energy-importing economies. These channels weighed on sentiment toward parts of the region despite generally stable operating conditions at the issuer level. Primary market activity slowed amid heightened uncertainty, and investor flows into Asian credit remain muted. Asian corporate fundamentals remained broadly resilient, supported by manageable leverage, solid liquidity buffers and contained default expectations for 2026.

Expectation of fund manager

We expect Asian credit performance to remain largely supported by carry, but with a less stable backdrop following the repricing experienced in March. Spreads are likely to remain range-bound, with periodic widening episodes more likely than sustained tightening as financial conditions have become more restrictive and investor risk tolerance more selective. While recent signs of easing tensions may provide temporary relief to sentiment, geopolitical uncertainty remains elevated. In Asia, higher and more volatile energy prices and the possibility of disruptions to physical energy supply, which could weigh on growth and inflation in energy-importing economies such as India, Thailand and the Philippines. Asian corporate fundamentals start from a solid position, supported by moderate leverage, generally stable cash flows and contained default expectations. We continue to prefer higher-quality segments, with a bias toward BBB–BB ratings and financial issuers, while remaining cautious on more cyclical sectors sensitive to growth and input-cost pressures. Asia IG credit continues to offer a valuation premium relative to US IG when adjusted for balance-sheet strength.

Sector allocation

In our portfolio management, we not only factor in weights, but also spreads and durations (DTS). On that basis, the largest underweights are in sovereigns and state-owned enterprises. These issuers have experienced significant spread tightening and fiscal risks are on the rise. Our largest overweights are in financial bonds issued by banks, as well as in utilities and transportation. We have underweight risk position in Indonesia, the Philippines and Malaysia, driven by tight valuations. The property sector is underweighted, and we only have selective exposure to the sector as issuers remain exposed to idiosyncratic risks, especially in Mainland China and Hong Kong.

Sector allocation		Deviation index

Financials	27.1%	7.5%

Treasuries	5.7%	5.7%
Local Authorities	1.0%	-0.6%
Cash and other instruments	1.4%	1.4%

Currency denomination allocation

Our exposure by currency of denomination may be driven by relative value between the markets on an aggregate level but is more typically the result of sector themes and issuer selection. All non-base currency exposure is hedged back to the benchmark by default.

Currency denomination allocation		Deviation index
U.S. Dollar	89.5%	-10.5%

Singapore Dollar	0.2	0.2

Rating allocation

Our positioning across the different rating buckets is the result of beta positioning, sector themes, and issuer selection.

Subordination allocation

In the allocation to the capital structure, we favor the bonds with solid risk-adjusted performance potential while taking into account the beta, sector themes, and the credit cycle. We prefer shorter-dated senior bonds. Within subordinated bonds, we favor Tier-2 over Tier-1 bonds.

Subordination type allocation		Deviation index

ESG Important information

The sustainability information in this factsheet can help investors integrate sustainability considerations in their process. This information is for informational purposes only. The reported sustainability information may not at all be used in relation to binding elements for this fund. A decision to invest should take into account all characteristics or objectives of the fund as described in the prospectus. The prospectus is available on request and free of charge on the Robeco website.

Sustainability

Sustainability is incorporated in the investment process by the means of a target universe, exclusions, ESG integration, and a minimum allocation to ESG-labeled bonds. The fund invests in credits issued by companies with a positive or neutral impact on the SDGs. The impact of issuers on the SDGs is determined by applying Robeco's internally developed three-step SDG Framework. The outcome is quantified with a proprietary SDG score methodology, considering both the contribution to the SDGs (positive, neutral or negative) and the extent of this contribution (high, medium or low). At least 50% of the fund is invested in Transition-related Investments contributing to the goals of the Paris Agreement and/or Transition-related Investments with an Environmental and/or Social objective. This is determined through Robeco's Paris Alignment Assessment, which evaluates companies using a Climate Traffic light. In addition, the fund does not invest in credit issuers that are in breach of international norms or where activities have been deemed detrimental to society following Robeco's exclusion policy. Financially material ESG factors are integrated in the bottom-up security analysis to assess the impact on the issuer's fundamental credit quality. Furthermore, the fund invests at least 15% in green, social, sustainable, and/or sustainability-linked bonds. The fund limits exposure to elevated sustainability risks. Lastly, where a credit issuer is flagged for breaching international standards in the ongoing monitoring, the issuer will become subject to exclusion. For more information please visit the sustainability-related disclosures. The index used for all sustainability visuals is based on JP Morgan Asia Credit Index.

SDG Impact Alignment

This distribution across SDG scores shows the portfolio weight allocated to companies with a positive, negative and neutral impact alignment with the Sustainable Development Goals (SDG) based on Robeco's SDG Framework. The framework utilizes a three-step approach to assess a company's impact alignment with the relevant SDGs and assign a total SDG score. The score ranges from positive to negative impact alignment with levels from high, medium or low impact alignment. This results in a 7-step scale from -3 to +3. For comparison, index figures are provided alongside that of the portfolio. Only holdings mapped as corporates are included in the figures.

Use of the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDG) logos, including the colour wheel, and icons shall only serve explanatory and illustrative purposes and may not be interpreted as an endorsement by the United Nations of this entity, or the product(s) or service(s) mentioned in this document. The opinions or interpretations shown in this document hence do not reflect the opinion or interpretations of the United Nations.

Sustainability ESG Risk Rating

The Portfolio Sustainability ESG Risk Rating chart displays the portfolio's ESG Risk Rating. This is calculated by multiplying each portfolio component's Sustainability ESG Risk Rating by its respective portfolio weight. The Distribution across Sustainability ESG Risk levels chart shows the portfolio allocations broken into Sustainability's five ESG risk levels: negligible (0-10), low (10-20), medium (20-30), high (30-40) and severe (40+), providing an overview of portfolio exposure to the different ESG risk levels. Index scores are provided alongside the portfolio scores, highlighting the portfolio's ESG risk level compared to the index. Only holdings mapped as corporates are included in the figures.

Environmental Footprint

Environmental footprint expresses the total resource consumption of the portfolio per mUSD invested. Each assessed company's footprint is calculated by normalizing resources consumed by the company's enterprise value including cash (EVIC). We aggregate these figures to portfolio level using a weighted average, multiplying each assessed portfolio constituent's footprint by its respective position weight. For comparison, index footprints are shown besides that of the portfolio. The equivalent factors that are used for comparison between the portfolio and index represent European averages and are based on third-party sources combined with own estimates. As such, the figures presented are intended for illustrative purposes and are purely an indication. Only holdings mapped as corporates are included in the figures.

ESG Labeled Bonds

The ESG-labeled bond chart displays the portfolio's exposure to ESG-labeled bonds. Specifically, green bonds, social bonds, sustainability bonds, and sustainability-linked bonds. This is calculated as a sum of weights for those bonds in the portfolio that have one of above mentioned labels. Index exposure figures are provided alongside the portfolio exposure figures, highlighting the difference with the index.

Engagement

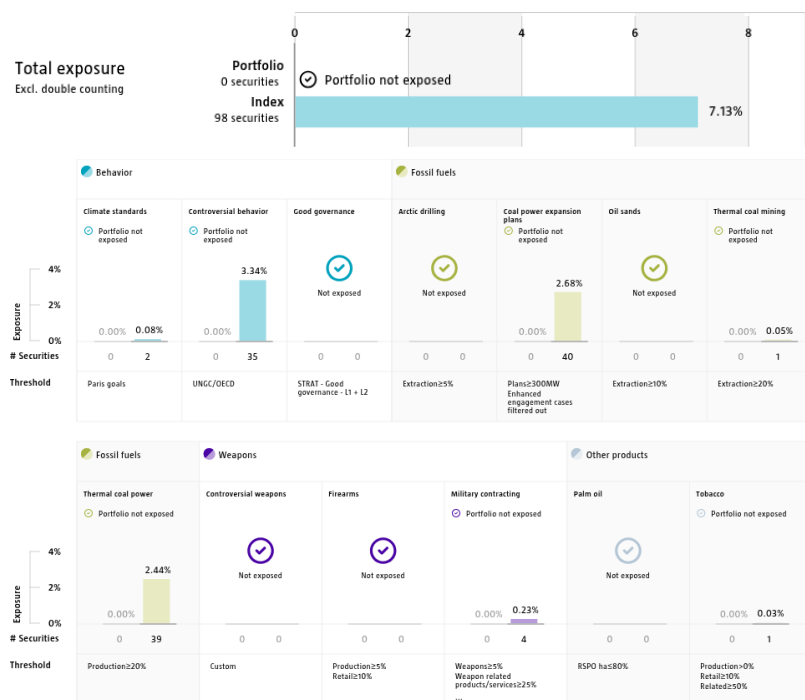

Robeco distinguishes between three types of engagement. Value Engagement focuses on long-term issues that are financially material and/or are causing adverse sustainability impacts. The themes can be broken into Environmental, Social, Governance, or Voting-related. SDG Engagement aims to drive a clear and measurable improvement in a company's SDG contribution. Enhanced engagement is triggered by misconduct and focuses on companies severely breaching international standards. The report is based on all companies in the portfolio for which engagement activities have taken place during the past 12 months. Note that companies may be under engagement in multiple categories simultaneously. While the total portfolio exposure excludes double counting, it may not equal the sum of individual category exposures.

	Portfolio exposure	# companies engaged with	# activities with companies engaged with
Total (* excluding double counting)	9.92%	11	46
Environmental	6.56%	5	22
Social	3.37%	4	15
