Performance

Based on transaction prices, the fund's return was 1.08%.
The portfolio underperformed versus its benchmark during the month, while still delivering positive absolute returns. The large-cap technology names were the most challenging positions in the portfolio, with AMD the largest detractor following a disappointing earnings report. This was partially offset by the announcement of a sizable infrastructure partnership between AMD and Meta Platforms to deploy 6 GW of GPUs, alongside deeper collaboration on CPUs. CBRE Group had a volatile month. AI-related disruption concerns weighed on the shares, reflecting market fears around the long-term impact on office demand and brokerage activity. We believe this reflects fragile sentiment rather than any deterioration in fundamentals. On the positive side, SMFG benefited from the Japanese election outcome and the more pro-business outlook, although evolving rate expectations weighed on the sector later in the period. Jabil responded well to updates from major technology companies indicating that capex levels continue to rise, with AI-related investment showing little sign of slowing. Industrials also delivered strong performance as markets rotated away from technology and software names.

Market development

There was no reprieve from the volatility seen in the previous month, with AI once again the dominant theme. The question remains to what extent the technology may prove disruptive to certain industries, as well as how sustainable the current high levels of AI-related investment are. Inflation fears re-emerged, further contributing to market concerns in the US. In Europe, markets remained more resilient, delivering small positive returns despite a challenging geopolitical backdrop, as tariff policy remained uncertain and the US build-up of arms in the Gulf heightened fears of yet another conflict in the Middle East. Asia-Pacific was more positive, with South Korea benefiting from AI infrastructure spending and Japan boosted by strong domestic sentiment following Takaichi's victory and a more pro-business stance.

Expectation of fund manager

Global equities are still behaving with plenty of excitement but there is much less margin for error. Valuations are rich, the equity risk premium is tight, and investors are crowding into a narrow set of AI winners while quietly worrying about everything that could go wrong. AI remains the main character in this story. Hyperscalers are set to spend well over half a trillion dollars on AI infrastructure this year, while investors debate whether these mega projects will ever fully earn their keep. This spending powers earnings for semis and capital goods, but also fuels fears of overcapacity, rapid obsolescence and, longer term, margin pressure across any sector where algorithms can undercut pricing power. Under the surface, fault lines are forming in credit. Private credit markets are showing early signs of strain, with bank risk assessments and specialist outlooks both pointing to a worsening tone and rising default expectations. Regionally, the US still offers the cleanest growth and innovation story, but at a price; international markets, especially parts of Europe and emerging Asia, offer cheaper entry points with healthier starting yields and less aggressive earnings expectations.

Asset Allocation

Sector allocation

We do not aim to have large deviations on a sector level. There are sectors where the SDG scores tend to be higher (such as in healthcare, for instance). In those sectors, it may be harder to find candidates for the fund. We are underweight in utilities, which tend not to fit the philosophy of the fund (high ROIC/FCF).

ESG Important information

The sustainability information in this factsheet can help investors integrate sustainability considerations in their process. This information is for informational purposes only. The reported sustainability information may not at all be used in relation to binding elements for this fund. A decision to invest should take into account all characteristics or objectives of the fund as described in the prospectus. The prospectus is available on request and free of charge on the Robeco website.

Sustainability

The fund incorporates sustainability in the investment process by the means of a target universe, exclusions, ESG integration and engagement. The fund solely invests in stocks issued by companies with a low negative to low positive impact on the SDGs. The impact of issuers on the SDGs is determined by applying Robeco's internally developed three-step SDG Framework. The outcome is a quantified contribution expressed as an SDG score, considering both the contribution to the SDGs (positive, neutral or negative) and the extent of this contribution (high, medium or low). The fund actively engages with 100% of the corporate holdings typically for a period of three to five years. The fund does not invest in stock issuers that are in breach of international norms or where activities have been deemed detrimental to society following Robeco's exclusion policy. Financially material ESG factors are integrated in the bottom-up fundamental investment analysis to assess existing and potential ESG risks and opportunities. In addition, where a stock issuer is flagged for breaching international standards in the ongoing monitoring, the issuer will become subject to exclusion. Lastly, the fund makes use of shareholder rights and applies proxy voting in accordance with Robeco's proxy voting policy.
For more information please visit the sustainability-related disclosures.
The index used for all sustainability visuals is based on MSCI All Country World Index (hedged into EUR).

SDG Impact Alignment

This distribution across SDG scores shows the portfolio weight allocated to companies with a positive, negative and neutral impact alignment with the Sustainable Development Goals (SDG) based on Robeco's SDG Framework. The framework utilizes a three-step approach to assess a company's impact alignment with the relevant SDGs and assign a total SDG score. The score ranges from positive to negative impact alignment with levels from high, medium or low impact alignment. This results in a 7-step scale from -3 to +3. For comparison, index figures are provided alongside that of the portfolio. Only holdings mapped as corporates are included in the figures.
Use of the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDG) logos, including the colour wheel, and icons shall only serve explanatory and illustrative purposes and may not be interpreted as an endorsement by the United Nations of this entity, or the product(s) or service(s) mentioned in this document. The opinions or interpretations shown in this document hence do not reflect the opinion or interpretations of the United Nations.

Sustainalytics ESG Risk Rating

The Portfolio Sustainalytics ESG Risk Rating chart displays the portfolio's ESG Risk Rating. This is calculated by multiplying each portfolio component's Sustainalytics ESG Risk Rating by its respective portfolio weight. The Distribution across Sustainalytics ESG Risk levels chart shows the portfolio allocations broken into Sustainalytics' five ESG risk levels: negligible (0-10), low (10-20), medium (20-30), high (30-40) and severe (40+), providing an overview of portfolio exposure to the different ESG risk levels. Index scores are provided alongside the portfolio scores, highlighting the portfolio's ESG risk level compared to the index.
Only holdings mapped as corporates are included in the figures.

Environmental Footprint

Environmental footprint expresses the total resource consumption of the portfolio per mUSD invested. Each assessed company's footprint is calculated by normalizing resources consumed by the company's enterprise value including cash (EVIC). We aggregate these figures to portfolio level using a weighted average, multiplying each assessed portfolio constituent's footprint by its respective position weight. For comparison, index footprints are shown besides that of the portfolio. The equivalent factors that are used for comparison between the portfolio and index represent European averages and are based on third-party sources combined with own estimates. As such, the figures presented are intended for illustrative purposes and are purely an indication. Only holdings mapped as corporates are included in the figures.

Engagement

Robeco distinguishes between three types of engagement.
Value Engagement focuses on long-term issues that are financially material and/or are causing adverse sustainability impacts. The themes can be broken into Environmental, Social, Governance, or Voting-related. SDG Engagement aims to drive a clear and measurable improvement in a company's SDG contribution. Enhanced engagement is triggered by misconduct and focuses on companies severely breaching internationals standards. The report is based on all companies in the portfolio for which engagement activities have taken place during the past 12 months. Note that companies may be under engagement in multiple categories simultaneously. While the total portfolio exposure excludes double counting, it may not equal the sum of individual category exposures.

	Portfolio exposure	# companies engaged with	# activities with companies engaged with
Total (* excluding double counting)	96.35%	32	154
Environmental	5.04%	3	7
Social	6.20%	2	5
Governance	10.40%	3	5
Sustainable Development Goals	95.36%	31	136
Voting Related	3.26%	1	1
