Performance

Based on transaction prices, the fund's return was 0.16%.
In November, the high yield market had a total return of 0.27%. This result was mainly driven by declining underlying government rates, with the US 10-year yield falling to 4.1%, together with negative excess credit returns. The portfolio outperformed by 15 bps this month, as issuer selection contributed 13 bps and underweight beta positioning added 2 bps. Higher quality credit outperformed in the dollar market, and underperformed in the EUR market, on a risk-adjusted basis. Overall, the EUR market – where we hold an overweight – had better returns. From a sector perspective, our underweight in the consumer cyclical and overweight in basic industry sectors added 8 bps and 4 bps, respectively; underweight in the technology sector detracted 2 bps. Our overweight in Magnera contributed 5 bps after the specialty materials company delivered a strong first set of results after its merger with Glatfelter. Our overweight in CoreWeave detracted 4 bps, as the bonds and stock fell amid broader AI sector weakness and concerns over NVIDIA's dominance following Google's successful launch of Gemini 3 on TPUs, which fueled rotation away from GPU-centric infrastructure providers.

Market development

In November, high yield spreads tightened by 11 bps to 276, while YTW compressed by 17 bps to 6.27%. The month was characterized by a risk-off tone in equities but relative stability in credit, as investors weighed renewed concerns over global growth. Discussion centered on the bifurcation within the US economy, where higher-income households continue to drive consumption while lower-income segments show increasing signs of strain amid a cooling labor market and slowing wage growth. The 43-day US government shutdown – the longest in history – ended on November 12th, allowing the resumption of key data releases and enabling policymakers to make a more informed decision in their final meeting of the year. In Europe, the ECB kept rates unchanged at 2%, with inflation viewed as broadly under control and policy settings seen near the target level. US high yield issuance totaled USD 24.9 bln during the month, while three default or LME events affected just under USD 10 bln of debt.

Expectation of fund manager

The third quarter of 2025 was again notable, with high yield spreads tightening to near record lows despite geopolitical tensions and softer economic signals. Markets remain resilient, largely ignoring repeated risk warnings. US growth is expected to slow to approximately 1.5% annualized, with labor data showing weaker job creation and private employment. Further deterioration could weigh on sentiment and spending, while inflation risks persist from tariffs, wages, and AI-driven power demand. Europe looks steadier, supported by savings, fiscal spending, and inflation back at target, though still exposed to US policy shifts. Despite stretched valuations, strong technicals prevail as investors, burned by past false alarms, avoid hedging and continue to chase new issues. We remain cautious, emphasizing quality and avoiding weaker segments where valuations no longer cover risks.

Within automotive, our core exposures include ZF Industries and Forvia, while in chemicals we maintain a sizable position in Olympus Water. ESG Important information

The sustainability information in this factsheet can help investors integrate sustainability considerations in their process. This information is for informational purposes only. The reported sustainability information may not at all be used in relation to binding elements for this fund. A decision to invest should take into account all characteristics or objectives of the fund as described in the prospectus. The prospectus is available on request and free of charge on the Robeco website.

Sustainability

Sustainability is incorporated in the investment process by the means of a target universe, exclusions, ESG integration, and a minimum allocation to ESG-labeled bonds. The fund solely invests in credits issued by companies with a positive or neutral impact on the SDGs. The impact of issuers on the SDGs is determined by applying Robeco's internally developed three-step SDG Framework. The outcome is a quantified contribution expressed as an SDG score, considering both the contribution to the SDGs (positive, neutral or negative) and the extent of this contribution (high, medium or low). In addition, the fund does not invest in credit issuers that are in breach of international norms or where activities have been deemed detrimental to society following Robeco's exclusion policy. ESG factors are integrated in the bottom-up security analysis to assess the impact of financially material ESG risk on the issuer's fundamental credit quality. Furthermore, the fund invests at least 2% in green, social, sustainable, and/or sustainability-linked bonds. Lastly, where a credit issuer is flagged for breaching international standards in the ongoing monitoring, the issuer will become subject to exclusion.
For more information please visit the sustainability-related disclosures.
The index used for all sustainability visuals is based on Bloomberg Global High Yield Corporate Index.

SDG Impact Alignment

This distribution across SDG scores shows the portfolio weight allocated to companies with a positive, negative and neutral impact alignment with the Sustainable Development Goals (SDG) based on Robeco's SDG Framework. The framework utilizes a three-step approach to assess a company's impact alignment with the relevant SDGs and assign a total SDG score. The score ranges from positive to negative impact alignment with levels from high, medium or low impact alignment. This results in a 7-step scale from -3 to +3. For comparison, index figures are provided alongside that of the portfolio. Only holdings mapped as corporates are included in the figures.
Use of the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDG) logos, including the colour wheel, and icons shall only serve explanatory and illustrative purposes and may not be interpreted as an endorsement by the United Nations of this entity, or the product(s) or service(s) mentioned in this document. The opinions or interpretations shown in this document hence do not reflect the opinion or interpretations of the United Nations.

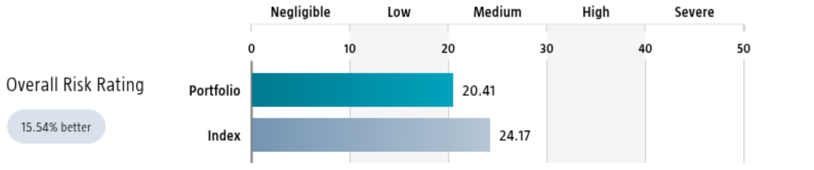
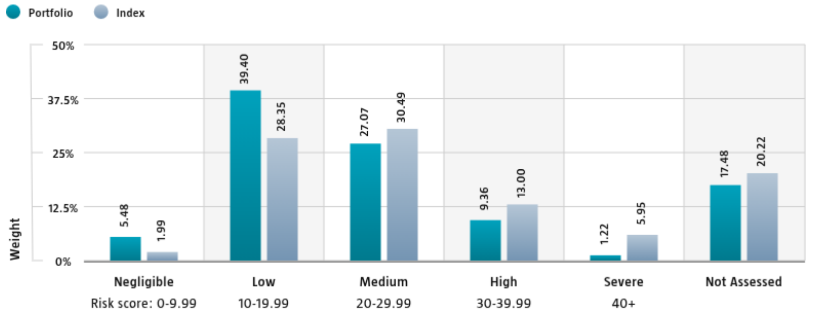
Sustainalytics ESG Risk Rating

The Portfolio Sustainalytics ESG Risk Rating chart displays the portfolio's ESG Risk Rating. This is calculated by multiplying each portfolio component's Sustainalytics ESG Risk Rating by its respective portfolio weight. The Distribution across Sustainalytics ESG Risk levels chart shows the portfolio allocations broken into Sustainalytics' five ESG risk levels: negligible (0-10), low (10-20), medium (20-30), high (30-40) and severe (40+), providing an overview of portfolio exposure to the different ESG risk levels. Index scores are provided alongside the portfolio scores, highlighting the portfolio's ESG risk level compared to the index.
Only holdings mapped as corporates are included in the figures.





Environmental Footprint

Environmental footprint expresses the total resource consumption of the portfolio per mUSD invested. Each assessed company's footprint is calculated by normalizing resources consumed by the company's enterprise value including cash (EVIC). We aggregate these figures to portfolio level using a weighted average, multiplying each assessed portfolio constituent's footprint by its respective position weight. For comparison, index footprints are shown besides that of the portfolio. The equivalent factors that are used for comparison between the portfolio and index represent European averages and are based on third-party sources combined with own estimates. As such, the figures presented are intended for illustrative purposes and are purely an indication. Only holdings mapped as corporates are included in the figures.

Index exposure figures are provided alongside the portfolio exposure figures, highlighting the difference with the index.

Engagement

Robeco distinguishes between three types of engagement.
Value Engagement focuses on long-term issues that are financially material and/or are causing adverse sustainability impacts. The themes can be broken into Environmental, Social, Governance, or Voting-related. SDG Engagement aims to drive a clear and measurable improvement in a company's SDG contribution. Enhanced engagement is triggered by misconduct and focuses on companies severely breaching internationals standards. The report is based on all companies in the portfolio for which engagement activities have taken place during the past 12 months. Note that companies may be under engagement in multiple categories simultaneously. While the total portfolio exposure excludes double counting, it may not equal the sum of individual category exposures.

	Portfolio exposure	# companies engaged with	# activities with companies engaged with

Environmental	1.53%	8	27
Social	0.36%	2	4
