This document provides you with key investor information about this fund. It is not marketing material. The information is required by law to help you understand the nature and the risks of investing in this fund. You are advised to read it so you can make an informed decision about whether to invest.

Robeco Transition Emerging Credits FH EUR (LU1082323582)

This fund is a subfund of Robeco Capital Growth Funds, SICAV

Management Company: Robeco Institutional Asset Management B.V.

Objectives and investment policy

Robeco Transition Emerging Credits is an actively managed sub-fund that invests in bonds (which may include contingent convertible bonds (also "coco" bonds)), asset backed securities and similar fixed income securities issued by entities incorporated or exercising a preponderant part of their economic activities in Emerging Countries. The selection of these bonds is based on fundamental analysis. The fund has the flexibility to invest in value opportunities beyond the index universe, which means that the fund comprises both local currency and hard currency debt. The fund aims to make investments in assets with a sustainable objective as well as investments in assets that contribute to a transition. Transition pertains to activities that measurably and credibly contribute to the goals of the Paris Agreement and/or an environmental and/or social objective. This is achieved by investing in entities that have credible emission reduction targets, entities that provide solutions to enable climate change mitigation and bonds to finance sustainability transformation or refinance, in part or in full, new and/or existing projects with an environmental and/or social objective. The fund's objective is to provide long-term capital growth.

The fund promotes E&S (i.e. Environmental and Social) characteristics within the meaning of Article 8 of the European Sustainable Finance Disclosure Regulation integrates sustainability risks in the investment process and applies Robeco's Good Governance policy. The fund applies sustainability indicators, including but not limited to, normative, activity-based and region-based exclusions.

Derivatives can be used for various reasons; for example, to hedge single positions, for arbitrage, and for leverage to gain extra exposure to the credit market.

Benchmark: JPM Corporate EMBI Broad Diversified Index (hedged into EUR)

The Sub-fund is actively managed and uses the Benchmark for asset allocation purposes. However, although securities may be components of the Benchmark, securities outside the Benchmark may be selected too. The Sub-fund can deviate substantially from the weightings of the Benchmark. The Management Company has discretion over the composition of the portfolio subject to the investment objectives. The Sub-fund aims to outperform the Benchmark over the long run, whilst still controlling relative risk through the applications of limits (on VaR Ratio) to the extent of deviation from the Benchmark. This will consequently limit the deviation of the performance relative to the Benchmark. The Benchmark is a broad market weighted index that is not consistent with the environmental, social and governance characteristics promoted by the Sub-fund.

This share class of the fund does not distribute dividend.

You can purchase or sell units in the fund on any valuation day. This fund may not be appropriate for investors who plan to withdraw their money within 3 years.

Risk and reward profile

Historical data, such as is used in calculating the synthetic indicator, is not a reliable indication of the future risk profile. The risk and reward category shown is not guaranteed to remain unchanged, the categorization may shift over time. The lowest category does not mean a risk-free investment.

Corporate bonds are more risky and volatile investments compared to government bonds. Investments in emerging and frontier markets are considered to be prone to larger price movements and increased volatility compared to the investments in developed markets. The fund may use financial derivatives.

The following risk considerations are deemed material for this fund, and are not (adequately) reflected by the indicator:

- A derivative counterparty may fail to fulfil its obligations which could result in a loss. Counterparty risk is reduced via the exchange of collateral.

- The fund invests in assets that could become less liquid in certain market conditions, which could have a significant impact on the value of these assets. Investors may face significant difficulties in terms of time or costs for disinvesting subject to specific market conditions.
- The fund invests or may invest in Chinese debt securities through Bond Connect. Investing in Chinese debt securities through Bond Connect carries increased risk, most notably liquidity, regulatory, custody and broker risks.
- The fund invests or may invest in (contingent) convertible bonds. Upon materialization of a pre-defined trigger, these instruments can convert into equity or face full or partial write down.
- For more details about portfolio risks, see Section 4. "Risk Considerations" of the prospectus.
