About the fund

Robeco Global SDG Credits is an actively managed fund that invests in corporate bonds in the global developed and emerging markets. The selection of these bonds is based on fundamental analysis. Performance drivers are the top-down beta positioning as well as bottom-up issuer selection. The fund invests at least two-thirds of its total assets in non-government bonds (which may include contingent convertible bonds (also "coco" bonds)) and similar non-government fixed income securities and asset backed securities from all around the world. The fund will not invest into assets with a rating lower than "B-" by at least one of the recognized rating agencies. The fund takes into account the contribution of a company to the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDG). The portfolio is built on the basis of the eligible investment universe and an internally developed SDG framework for mapping and measuring SDG contributions, about which more information can be obtained via the website www.robeco.com/si. The fund's objective is to provide long term capital growth.

Key risks

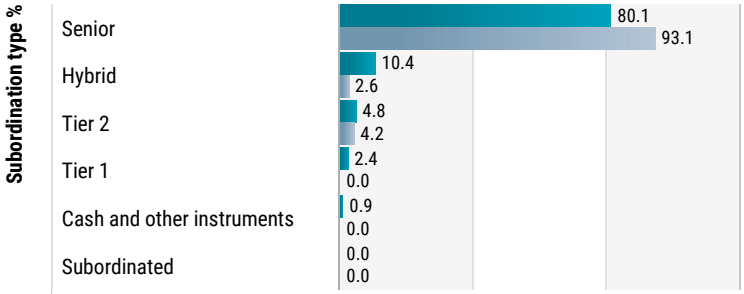

- The value of shares is sensitive to market fluctuations, instrument prices, and changes in political, economic, or market conditions. Corporate bonds are more risky and volatile investments compared to government bonds.
- The fund may use derivatives to achieve its investment objectives. These instruments can create leverage, increasing the fund's exposure to market fluctuations.
- A (derivative) counterparty may fail to fulfil its obligations. Counterparty risk is reduced by exchanging collateral.
- This fund promotes ESG characteristics, but does not have sustainable investing as its objective. Sustainability risks are integrated in the investment decisions and may impact returns.

Performance commentary
Based on transaction prices, the fund's return was 1.54%.

The benchmark returned +1.54% over the month, while the portfolio underperformed by 8 bps. Issuer selection detracted 7 bps and beta positioning a further 9 bps, partly offset by positive contributions from duration, currency and other effects, as the active duration overweight benefited from the rally in rates. Within issuer selection, the main detractors were Charter Communications, Hiscox, AT&T, MTR Corp and Beignet Investor LLC.

Market development
October was dominated by a fresh bout of Eurozone fiscal stress and a sharp reassessment of the AI trade, on top of an already high yield backdrop. French political turmoil drove the 10-year OAT-Bund spread to its widest since the 2011 euro crisis, pressuring Italian and Spanish bonds, European banks and the euro, which slid to its weakest against the dollar since spring. Energy added to the strain. Houthi attacks and tighter Strait of Hormuz shipping, plus fears of renewed US-Iran conflict after the midterms, lifted Brent by around 14% and sent European gas to its highest since the 2022 crisis. Government bonds staged a late turnaround despite firm US inflation. Yields hit multi-year highs early on, before the AI-driven risk-off tone and dovish Fed, ECB and BoJ meetings revived demand for core bonds. US Treasuries and German Bunds delivered their strongest monthly showing of the year, though both remain modestly negative year-to-date. Credit lagged the government rally. European high yield saw its largest monthly spread widening since 2022, weighed down by the sovereign stress and energy shock, leaving euro credit the weaker of the two regions in both total and excess-return terms.

Expectation of fund manager
Entering Q4, firm growth and hawkish central banks meet a bond market that is no longer scarce. The Fed hiked in September with more likely to follow, the ECB looks set to continue, the Bank of Japan is still normalizing, and the war in Iran keeps inflation risk elevated. US growth is near trend but increasingly narrow, carried by AI-related capex while housing and smaller borrowers feel the weight of higher rates. The bigger shift is technical. Consensus hyperscaler capex for 2027 now exceeds USD 1 trillion, more of it funded with debt, pulling utilities and grid operators into the same cycle at a time when sovereign issuance is already heavy. The scarcity that supported spreads for years is giving way to abundance, and new data center deals are already repricing those sectors. With median BB and B spreads near record tights, valuations leave little room for error. We therefore prefer carry and selection to directional risk. Starting yields provide a cushion, but we keep duration broadly neutral, favoring Europe while avoiding French and Italian risk. In credit, we run shorter spread duration with a bias to quality and financials, and keep moving up in quality in high yield.

Top 10 largest holdings
In our portfolio management, the most relevant issuer positions are those measured in risk points (weight x spread x duration). The largest positions consist of a mix of financials and industrials. Often, we have more than one bond holding in a specific name.

Sector allocation
In constructing the portfolio, we consider not only issuer weights but also spread exposure and duration-times-spread (DTS). Overall, we maintain a slight overweight in corporate credit risk. ESG considerations contribute to underweights in more carbon-intensive sectors such as energy and capital goods, while we currently see attractive opportunities within the communications sector, which represents an overweight position. Part of the sector positioning is also driven by our SDG framework, which limits exposure to issuers with less favorable SDG profiles.

Currency denomination allocation
Our exposure by currency of denomination may be driven by relative value between the markets on an aggregate level but is more typically the result of sector themes and issuer selection. All currency exposure is hedged back to the benchmark by default.

Duration allocation
The portfolio uses futures to hedge and actively manage its duration relative to the benchmark.

Rating allocation
Our positioning across the different rating buckets is the result of beta positioning, sector themes, and issuer selection.

Subordination allocation
In the allocation to the capital structure, we favor the bonds with solid risk-adjusted performance potential while taking into account the beta, sector themes, and the credit cycle. The exposure to subordinated bonds that we do have, is limited to positions that have both a good fundamental outlook as well as a robust bond structure.

Reference

1. SDG Impact Alignment
This distribution across SDG scores shows the portfolio weight allocated to companies with a positive, negative and neutral impact alignment with the Sustainable Development Goals (SDG) based on Robeco's SDG Framework. The framework utilizes a three-step approach to assess a company's impact alignment with the relevant SDGs and assign a total SDG score. The score ranges from positive to negative impact alignment with levels from high, medium or low impact alignment. Only holdings mapped as corporates are included in the figures.

2. Sustainalytics ESG Risk Rating
The chart displays the portfolio's Sustainalytics ESG Risk Rating. This is calculated by multiplying each portfolio component's Sustainalytics ESG Risk Rating by its respective portfolio weight. The distribution across Sustainalytics ESG Risk levels chart shows the portfolio allocations broken into Sustainalytics' five ESG risk levels: negligible (0-10), low (10-20), medium (20-30), high (30-40) and severe (40+), providing an overview of portfolio exposure to the different ESG risk levels. Only holdings mapped as corporates are included in the figures.

3. ESG Labeled Bonds
The visual displays the portfolio's exposure to ESG-labeled bonds. This is calculated as a sum of weights for those bonds in the portfolio that have one of above mentioned labels. Index exposure figures are provided alongside the portfolio exposure figures, highlighting the difference with the index.

4. Environmental Footprint
Environmental footprint expresses the total resource consumption of the portfolio per mUSD invested. Each assessed company's footprint is calculated by normalizing resources consumed by the company's enterprise value including cash (EVIC). We aggregate these figures to portfolio level using a weighted average, multiplying each assessed portfolio constituent's footprint by its respective position weight. The equivalent factors that are used for comparison between the portfolio and index (where applicable) represent European averages and are based on third-party sources combined with own estimates. As such, the figures presented are intended for illustrative purposes and are purely an indication. Only holdings mapped as corporates are included in the figures.

5. Engagement
Robeco distinguishes between three types of engagement.
Value Engagement focuses on long-term issues that are financially material and/or are causing adverse sustainability impacts. The themes can be broken into Environmental, Social, Governance, or Voting-related. SDG Engagement aims to drive a clear and measurable improvement in a company's SDG contribution. Enhanced engagement is triggered by misconduct and focuses on companies severely breaching internationals standards. The report is based on all companies in the portfolio for which engagement activities have taken place during the past 12 months. Note that companies may be under engagement in multiple categories simultaneously. While the total portfolio exposure excludes double counting, it may not equal the sum of individual category exposures.

6. Exclusions
The charts display the degree of adherence to exclusion applied by Robeco. Thresholds are based on revenues unless otherwise indicated. For more information about the exclusion policy and which level applies, please refer to the Exclusion Policy and Exclusion List available on Robeco.com.
